FIS Derivatives Utility and Crédit Agricole CIB to Benefit the Capital Markets Industry

- Key facts
- FIS teams with Crédit Agricole Corporate & Investment Bank (Crédit Agricole CIB) to launch the capital market industry's first derivatives post-trade utility solution.
  - The solution will allow investment banks worldwide to share IT services and resources, thus reducing costs and increasing efficiency.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 3, 2014 – FIS™ (NYSE: FIS), the world's largest provider of banking and payments technology solutions and a global leader in consulting and outsourcing solutions, today announced the launch of the capital markets industry's first derivatives post-trade utility solution in partnership with Crédit Agricole Corporate & Investment Bank (Crédit Agricole CIB).

This IT platform allows investment banking firms worldwide to share IT services for cross-asset derivatives. The sharing by corporate and investment banks of their activities and resources, from trade booking to sub-ledger management, reduces their unit cost of execution and increases efficiency.

The utility combines the existing platform of Crédit Agricole CIB with the large-scale and deep financial services capabilities and expertise of FIS and was designed to meet the needs of corporate and investment banking firms.

"The launch of this innovative relationship with Crédit Agricole marks a unique and major stepping stone in the creation of a post-trade solution for the broader investment banking industry. We believe it represents a unique and attractive asset, which has broader applicability for clients across the global investment banking landscape making it a utility solution," said Rob Heyvaert, corporate executive vice president, Global Financial Institutions, FIS. "In addition, our partnership with Crédit Agricole shows the significant value FIS can deliver to capital market firms through the combination of our technology, managed services and capital markets consulting expertise."

"This partnership with FIS fits perfectly with our strategic plan and makes sense for corporate and investment banks who seek economies of scale. It is a new way of considering IT and will allow Crédit Agricole CIB to be nimble in a rapidly changing industry," said Jean-Yves Hocher, Chief Executive Officer of Crédit Agricole CIB. "We are confident this project will be a great success thanks to the depth of expertise FIS as a global provider focused solely on the financial services industry."
